14          (3) Such fraud by those who seek to contract with

23 the level of MAP grants and forgiven FMS credits;

1       These steps have helped to ease these problems in the 2 short term, but the long-term debt servicing problems of our
3 friends and allies remain;

4       It would be in the best interests of our friends and allies
5 to alleviate their debt burdens brought about by past loans
6 and to bring about a more streamlined and straightforward
7 approach to them programs in this area;

8       Such streamlined, straightforward programs would

10 current pressures on the United States to grant to aid recipi-

15 tary assistance program is in the national interest and 16 in the interest of the military and economic security of 17 our friends and allies throughout the world;

18           (2) that greater concessionality to match economic 19 need as appropriate should be incorporated into future
20 military assistance programs;

21           (3) that FMS loan programs extending the repay-
22 ment period beyond the useful life of the items to be
23 purchased could tend to increase the long-term debt
24 burdens of our friends and allies;

1           (4) that the FMS concessional loan program con-
2           tains a significant grant element to the recipient nation
3           and that the Congress should actively consider replac-
4           ing this program with a more straightforward ap-
5           proach;

6           (5) the President is urged to propose, in the next
7           formal Congressional Presentation for Security Assist-
8           ance Programs, reforms and refinements in the foreign 9           military assistance programs along these lines for con-

12          (56) SEC. 140. (a) Notwithstanding any other provi-

16               and thereby cause such products to be subject to the 17               rate of duty set forth in column number 2 of the Tariff 18               Schedules of the United States, and

19               (2) to deny credit, credit guarantees, and invest-
20               ment guarantees to, or for the benefit of, Afghanistan
21               under any Federal program.

22          (b) If the President has not denied nondiscriminatory
23          trade treatment to the products of Afghanistan before the date 24          that is 45 days after the date of enactment of this joint resolu-
25          tion, the President shall submit to the Congress on such date
